

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: September 15, 2025

“Safety First – Avoid the Worst” Theme for National Farm Safety and Health Week September 21-27, 2025

Covington, LA – National Farm Safety and Health Week (NFSHW) is taking place this year from September 21-27, 2025. NFSHW is a time to increase awareness of the high risk of accidents and injuries in agriculture and to promote the adoption of life-saving health and safety practices. Despite a slight decrease in total fatal occupational injuries in 2023, the Census of Fatal Occupational Injury shows that from 2022 to 2023, there was a 5.38% increase in fatal work injuries amongst the farming, forestry, and fishing industries (U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, 2023). The 2025 NFSHW theme chosen by the National Education Center for Agricultural Safety (NECAS), “Safety First – Avoid the Worst,” reminds us that taking time to follow safety practices can save a life.

AgriSafe is proud to host 10 free educational webinars for NFSHW from Monday the 22nd through Friday the 26th. Each weekday has a specific topic: Monday is Equipment and Rural Roadway Safety; Tuesday is Health and Wellness; Wednesday is Generations of Farming; Thursday is Confined Spaces; and Friday is ATV/UTV Safety. All webinars will take place in the AgriSafe Learning Lab (you just need a free account to access them!) from 11am-12pm CT and 1-2pm CT and will have live Spanish interpretation. Continuing education for a variety of professionals will be available for all webinars. Individuals who attend three or more webinars will be eligible for a 2025 National Farm Safety and Health Week Champion digital badge. For more information or to register for these free webinars please visit: <https://learning.agrisafe.org/national-farm-safety-training-topics>.

If you are interested in promoting National Farm Safety and Health Week, check out AgriSafe’s marketing materials for the webinars on their website at: <https://www.agrisafe.org/nfshw/#marketing>.

AgriSafe is grateful for the sponsors and partners that make National Farm Safety and Health Week successful: the National Corn Growers Association; Pork Checkoff; the Central States Center for Agricultural Health and Safety (CS-CASH); CHS; Agrellus; the UC Davis Western Center for Agricultural Health and Safety; GreenPoint Ag; the Agri-Services Agency (ASA); the Northeast Center for Occupational Health and Safety; Farmers for Soil Health; Country Folks; Successful Farming; and the University of Cincinnati Education and Research Center. If you are interested in sponsoring this initiative, fill out AgriSafe’s Sponsor Commitment Form.

For media inquiries, please contact Laura Siegel, AgriSafe’s Health Communications Officer, at lsiegel@agrisafe.org.

###

About AgriSafe Network:

AgriSafe Network is a national 501©3 non-profit that educates health care professionals and agricultural communities about important health and safety information for those working in agriculture, fishing, and forestry. They bring together national experts to develop educational materials that can be delivered both digitally and in-person. Their mission is to protect the people who feed the world – and in addition to education, they are cultivating a network of trained agricultural health and safety professionals that understand and support Total Farmer Health®. For more information, visit their website, and follow them on Facebook, Twitter, or LinkedIn.